The Moroccan Institute for Advanced Studies in collaboration with the Faculty of Sciences of Education and the ICESCO Chair in Open Education organizes the Second International Spring School for Doctoral Students in Human and Social Sciences, under the theme: "Integrating EdTech & TechEd in Social and Human Sciences Research", to be held at the Faculty of Sciences of Education in Rabat (FSE) on May 23rd and 24th, 2024.

Why should you apply ?

In today's rapidly digitizing world, it's crucial for doctoral researchers to integrate Educational Technology (EdTech) and Technology in Education (TechEd) into their work. The 2nd International Spring School offers a unique opportunity to Doctoral students to explore the potential of integrating technology as both a tool for research and a topic of research within the fields of social and human sciences.

What to Expect:

- Engaging discussions on the impact of AI on various research areas
- Practical workshops on incorporating AI tools into qualitative research methodologies
- Exploration of ethical considerations in AI-driven academia
- Opportunities to network with fellow researchers and explore collaborative projects
